My sincere thanks to all the exhibitors that came from near and far, to make up a record entry of 107 minis. A dream come true for me so thank you all. Some very tough decisions had to be made, but again thank you for the sportsmanship that was given. Mouths on the whole where good, just a handful of In Standing canines, and as I'm not a vet who am I to say the dogs found them painful, they certainly didn't look it to me. A few undershot and a couple of minor miss placed teeth. Temperaments where very good, a few dogs spooked in the ring due to traffic noise. Rear movement seems to be missing these days! So A new venue, but not the right one, it was like judging in a corridor, with an assault course, the table very much in the way in the middle of the room, made it hard to access the dogs, I did ask for it to be moved, but was told it had to stay there. Far to many distractions going on, balloons, open doors with at times very heavy traffic noise, making the dogs uneasy, music was also to loud, at times it had more of a carnival atmosphere than a dog show. Biggest distraction was that the spectators along the side of the ring, where on top of the mats and way to close to the dogs when they where moving, not only where people hanging over the barriers, but there feet where on the mats, so much so it put lots of dogs off the job in hand. I do think less is best for dog showing. My apologies for the missing owners and some ages of dogs, as these dogs where not in the catalogue and that's all I had to go off.
